20 THINGS I KNOW ABOUT RAISING TWO PUPPIES by Cynthia Parker

1. Don't tear down the whelping box while they are free, otherwise the two corners of your kitchen floor molding will lose their edges.
2. Puppies have their own language and talk behind your back, right in front of you.
3. Walking two puppies that are 3 months and 1 week old at the Residence Inn can be trying, especially when you drop the flexi lead and that puppy thinks it is chasing her and she runs off screaming at the top of her lungs. Thank goodness for that rock the flexi wrapped around.
4. If you have puppies who love to walk in your swimming pool, you will never have a dry kitchen floor.
5. And if your puppies love ice, you will not have a dry kitchen floor during the summer.

20 THINGS I KNOW ABOUT RAISING TWO PUPPIES, continued

6. The water from the pool is better than the water in the dish in the house.

7. Puppies learn the sound of treat packages opening before they learn how to keep all 4 feet on the ground to receive a treat.

8. Puppies learn the doggie door pretty quickly, but often will stop playing to relieve themselves in the house. It takes too long to get to the door to go outside.

9. Puppies love around 4 toys, even if you have 24 laying on the floor in the same area.

10. A puppy asleep is angelic; a puppy awake can be hell.

11. Puppies love a dog bed, no matter if they sleep on it or chew it up.

12. When the city cuts the trees back from the power lines and drop many small branches in the yard, most of them will end up in your house.

13. Puppies don't mind staying in a Handler's X-Pen at a dog show, as long as said Handlers drop food in to them, every time they walk by.

20 THINGS I KNOW ABOUT RAISING TWO PUPPIES, continued

14. The stuffing of dog toys tastes just as good as dog food.

15. 2 puppies will entertain each other for hours, but not always in a good way.

16. A puppy thinks everything is better if it is in their mouth first and with two puppies that means twice the number of items chewed, including your arms.

17. Dead leaves must be combed out of nappy wet puppy fur.

18. There is nothing like seeing the light bulbs go on in the puppies' minds when they learn something new.

20. No matter how bad your day is, a puppy will make you smile and with two, your smile is even bigger.
